

PERSONAL PROFILE

Dr Desterio Ondieki Nyamongo is a Chief Research Scientist and alumni of the University of Nairobi-Kenya, University of Birmingham-United Kingdom and Maseno University Kenya. He holds a Doctorate degree in Horticulture (Seed Science Option), a Masters degree in Biodiversity Conservation and Use, as well as a Bachelors degree in Agriculture. Dr Nyamongo is the Director of the Genetic Resources Research Institute (GeRRI); one of the sixteen constituent institutes of the Kenya Agricultural and Livestock Research Organisation (KALRO). Dr Nyamongo is also the National Focal Point (FP) for, both the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (ITPGRFA), and the Commission on Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (CGRFA). He is currently the Vice Chairman of the Intergovernmental Technical Working Group of the Plant Genetic Resources under Commission on Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture. His research interests are in Genetic Diversity, Seed Science and Conservation Biology. He has published widely generating peer reviewed articles, books, book chapters, policy documents and other technical publications.