

Elisenda Guillaumes holds an engineering PhD in environment and soil sciences from the Higher Technical School of Agricultural Engineering of the University of Lleida.

She started her professional career in 2005 as a technician at the natural parks office of the Barcelona Provincial Council.

In 2013 became director of the Montesquiú Castle Park and in 2016, director of the territorial services of Girona at the Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock, Fishing and Food of the Government of Catalonia.

She is currently General Director of Agriculture and Livestock at the Ministry of Climate Action, Food and Rural Agenda of the Government of Catalonia.

Since 2015 she has been City councillor of Sant Joan de les Abadesses in the Girona Province.